My pensive thoughts were interrupted by a voice that was distantly familiar.

"Ahem, is this seat taken?" I looked up and saw him. Ken.

"Oh my god!" I laughed, genuinely pleased to see him. I leapt up and wrapped my arms around him, feeling him pull me against his body. It had been a very long time since we'd had any contact, He didn't even know my mother was sick.

I pulled away from his embrace and we sat down at the booth.

"So, what are you doing here?" he asked, his eyes bright with joy at seeing me. I smirked.

"Well, I thought I'd come here for a haircut." I said, taking a deliberate sip of my latte.

Ken chuckled. "Yes, you could do with a cut and style." He said, reaching up and tucking an errant strand of hair behind my ear.

"How are you going?" He asked me.

"Oh living the dream..." I said offhandedly. "Just getting by I guess. You however, I hear you are doing quite well for yourself Mr Billionaire." I grinned and held my cup to my lip to take another sip. It didn't escape my notice that Ken's eyes stayed on my mouth as I sipped, then absent-mindedly I licked my lips to clear the milky foam that had stuck there.
